THE CAPITAL.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, March 17, 1869.

THE RUSH FOR OFFICE.

The hotels are crowded with office-seekers, and the arrival of every railroad train increases the number. The public departments and lobbies of the Capitol are alive with them, and members of Congress are continually called from their seats by those seeking positions of some character. Both Senators and Representatives are overwhelmed with letters from all parts of the country on the same business, and it is impossible to give prompt responses.

VISITORS AT THE WHITE HOUSE,

Among the visitors at the Executive Mansion to-day was the House Committee on Military Affairs, headed by the Chairman, Mr. Logan, who called to be introduced to the President.

The usual order about visitors was observed. Those received were mainly Senators and Representatives, who were present in large force.

MINISTER TO HAYTI.

Additional efforts are being made to secure the appointment of Ebenezer D. Bassett, colored principal of a school in Philadelphia, as Minister to Hayti. He is endorsed by the National Committee of Colored Men, Fred. Douglass, Downing, Langston, and many other blacks and whites.

CLAIMS COMMISSION.

The Joint Commission of the British and American governments to settle the Hudson Bay and Puget Sound difficulties, will meet in New York to-morrow. Present, for the British government, Hon. Jno. Rose; for the United States, Hon. Alex. S. Johnson; Hon. B. R. Curtis, umpire; counsel for the United States, Caleb Cushing; for the British government, Hon. Charles D. Day, of Canada. The counsel will be heard orally to-morrow on the testimony and briefs already submitted. The united amount of the claims of the two commissions is $6,000,000. The treaty of 1856, negotiated under ex-President Buchanan and Lord Packenham, stipulated for the protection of the rights of those commissions during the continuance of the license granted by the British government. It is now sought to found on that license a claim in fee to the territory so occupied, which the United States resists.

NAVY ORDER.

A Naval general order, issued to-day, calls the attention of officers to the regulations of the Navy forbidding applications for duty through persons of influence. All such applications are ordered to be made direct to the Secretary of the Navy.

GEN. SCHOFIELD

Leaves for his new command to-morrow. He will be accompanied from here by Col. Wherry, Capt. Ennis and Lieut. Rathbone, of his staff, who have been on duty in the War Department. Col. Campbell remains at the Department.

NOMINATIONS.

The President sent several nominations to the Senate to-day, but it is said they are not of an important character.

NOMINATIONS CONFIRMED.

The Senate to-day confirmed the following nominations: Frank Moore, of New York, second Secretary of Legation at Madrid; Jno. T. Forbes, Pension Agent at Philadelphia. There were no other confirmations.

POSTMASTERS NOMINATED.

The following nominations of Postmasters were sent in: Elizabeth Van Lew, of Richmond, Va., in acknowledgment of important services to the Union army during the rebellion, vice Alexander Sharp, resigned, and since confirmed as Marshal for the District of Columbia; Eliza F. Evans, at Ravenna, Ohio; Emily J. C. Bushnell, at Sterling, Ills.; George T. Matthews, at Dubuque, Iowa; C. E. Carr, at Galesburg, Ills.; Wm. A. Carr, at Van Wert, Ohio; Omaziah Ballou, at Hancock, Ohio; H. W. Farnsworth, at Topeka, Kansas; Rufus P. Millen, at Amboy, Ills.; Warren W. Huntington, at Galena, Ills.; Richard J. Tompkins, at Mount Carroll, Ills. Six or seven of the above are re-appointed.

OTHER NOMINATIONS.

The President has also nominated J. C. Smith as assessor of internal revenue for the twenty-first district of Pennsylvania, vice Frost, deceased; Israel Washburne, Sr., collector of customs for Portland, Maine; C. C. P. Clarke, collector of customs of Oswego, N. Y.; Henry D. Moore, collector of customs at Philadelphia.

LIEUT. GEN. SHERIDAN

Will postpone his departure from this city until to-morrow. He will proceed to New York and pass a few days, and afterwards visit St. Louis and Fort Leavenworth. It is understood the General has determined to establish his headquarters at Chicago. A department of supplies will be continued at St. Louis to furnish the posts of the Upper Missouri. The Lieutenant General called on the President this morning and had a lengthy interview.

THE FOURTEENTH AMENDMENT.

The first section of the amended bill to enforce the fourteenth constitutional amendment in Georgia, reported by the Judiciary Committee by Mr. Trumbull, repeals so much of the act of June 25th, 1868, as relates to Georgia; section second revises the military government of Georgio; section third continues the government of the State as provisional, and declares null and void each act ejecting African members of the legislature and restores them to their seats, the persons admitted to their places to vacate the same, and prohibits any person disqualified under the fourteenth amendment from holding a seat in said Legislature; section 4th makes it the duty of the President to station such part of the land and naval forces of the United States in such States as shall be sufficient to carry the act into full execution, and all officers in command of such forces shall, on demand of the acting governor, render military aid and assistance in the administration of the government and protection of life and property and administration of justice.

MINISTER FROM ARGENTINE REPUBLIC.

Senor Garcia presented his credentials to the President to day, as Minister of the Argentine Republic. In response to his address the President said: Mr. Garcia, I welcome you as the diplomatic representative of the Argentine Republic in this country. It shall be my endeavor during your mission to reciprocate the kind sentiments which you express on behalf of your Government, and its desire to strengthen those relations of friendship and commerce which now unite both nations. I notice that your letter of credence is signed by your predecessor, now the Chief Magistrate of the Argentine Republic. The personal and official character which he maintained while here warrants the assumption that in selecting you as Minister of that Republic he was actuated by his usual discretion and had no reason to apprehend that your career would not justify his choice. A similar confidence is entertained by me.

MARSHAL FOR WESTERN DISTRICT OF PA.

A special says the President informed Hon. O. J. Dickey this morning that he had not settled upon any appointments for Pennsylvania except that of Mr. Murdock, United States Marshal for the Western District. He has ordered Mr. Murdock's name to be sent to the Senate. The other appointments for Pennsylvania will not be considered by the President for several days.

FORTY-FIRST CONGRESS.

[FIRST SESSION.]

SENATE: Tenure-of-Office Act—Further Discussion Without Action—The Case of Georgia. HOUSE: Important Omission in the Enrollment of Appropriation Bill of Last Session—An Animated Debate.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, March 17, 1869.

SENATE.

A memorial of the citizens of Texas, protesting against the organization of State government and suggesting the State be divided into several States or Territories, was referred to the Judiciary Committee.

The bill to enforce the fourteenth amendment in Georgia, with an amendment, was reported from the Judiciary Committee.

The same Committee reported back the names of Joshua Hill and H. V. Miller, claiming to be Senators from Georgia, with a recommendation that they lay on the table until action was taken on the joint resolution relative to Georgia.

The bill granting land to a railroad from the southern boundary of Kansas to the Pacific Ocean was referred to the Committee on Public Lands.

The bill relating to the Freedmen's Bureau was referred to the Committee on Military Affairs. It provides for the continuing of the educational and collection departments until January 1, 1870.

The bill providing the mode of settlement of certain claims was referred to the Committee on Judiciary. It provides for the appointment of two additional Judges of the Court of Claims, whereupon the Chief Justice shall designate any three of the Judges to constitute a chamber of Indian Claims, to adjudicate claims against the United States of the Cherokee, Creek, Seminole, Choctaw and Chickasaw tribes, growing out of any treaty or stipulation made with them by the Government.

A Bill granting lands in aid of New Orleans, Mobile and Chattanooga Railroad was referred to Committee on Public Lands.

A bill granting lands in Florida to aid in the re-building of the Pensacola and Louisville Railroad was referred to the Committee on Public Lands.

A bill directing the Postmaster General to contract with the New York and Antwerp Steamship Company was introduced.

A joint resolution prescribing the mode of procedure by State Legislatures in ratifying the Constitutional Amendments was introduced and laid on the table.

A resolution was adopted requesting of the President copies of correspondence between Buchanan and Cass as to the policy to be pursued to avert the then impending rebellion.

A joint resolution relative to light houses on the coast of Oregon was passed.

A joint resolution allowing the Newfoundland Telegraph Company to land cables on American soil was taken up. An amendment applying the bill to all other Cable Companies was discussed.

At the expiration of the morning hour the bill repealing the Tenure-of-Office act was taken up.

Mr. EDMUNDS argued against it.

Mr. THAYER offered a substitute for the pending bill, providing that the act regulating the tenure of certain civil officers is hereby made and declared to be inoperative and void from and after the passage of this act; provided, however, that the President shall report to the Senate, within ten days from the beginning of each session, all the appointments made by him during the preceding recess of the Senate which require confirmation by the Senate.

Mr. SHERMAN spoke briefly in favor of the repeal of the act. He considered the true constitutional principle to be that the President has power to make absolute removals from office during a recess of the Senate, but can only make temporary appointments to fill such vacancies, to be confirmed or rejected by the Senate at its next session. The great reason for passing the Tenure of-Office was that President Johnson sought by a trick to evade, and did in many cases, this Constitutional provision. If it should be found necessary, Congress might enact a civil service law, general in its provisions, and thus might guard against the abuse of Executive power by improper removals. If it was right to suspend a law for a year, it was of course equally so to repeal it. If the law were repealed for a year General Grant might, if he choose, remove everybody now in office, and after that shonld be done, how could Congress deny the same right to succeeding administrations. The public opinion of the country demanded the repeal of the law. The House of Representatives, which had concurred with the Senate in passing it, had already manifested its willingness to repeal the law, the occasion for it having passed. The Senate, in considering the question of repeal, was really sitting as a judge in its own case, and if it insisted upon the law in force, it might plausibly be accused of doing so from a design to maintain for itself exceptional powers, conferred upon it two years ago to meet a special emergency, now happily passed away. The Senator from Vermont (Mr. Edmunds) had spoken much of the danger to the liberty of the country from the love of power in the Executive, but it should be remembered that Senators were no more willing than the President to yield up power once obtained. He (Mr. Sherman) thought it wrong to refer, in the discussion of this question, to the character of General Grant, or his wishes on the subject. The Senate was not required to grant him any special favor, but only to put him in this respect upon the same footing with all other Presidents, from Washington to Johnson.

Mr. COLE spoke in advocacy of the substitute.

Mr. CARPENTER said, owing probably to his inexperience in legislative debate, he was surprised at the course of this discussion. Much had been said about the high character and great services of Gen. Grant. No one appreciated them more highly than he, but they had nothing to do with the question before the Senate, which was a dry question of law, namely: Where is the power of ermoval under the Constitution? Mr. Carpenter then made some argument to show that the President has no constitutional right to remove a public officer, except by and with the advice and consent of the Senate. There were, he said, a few maxims of constitutional law so elementary and obvious that they were often forgotten. Among these were some which bore directly on the question under discuision. It should be remembered, first, that the Government of the United States, and its several departments and officers, possess no power not expressly granted or resulting by necessary implication from the words of some express grant in the Constitution. If the administration of the Government disclosed any deficiency of necessary power in any department of the Government, the remedy was by amending the Constitution. The mere discovery of the defect did not authorize the department to assume needed power. If the President might usurp powers, because they seemed to him necessary, he would soon become the people's master, instead of their servant. There were but two provisions of the Constitution applicable to the determination of the extent of the power of the President in appointing and removing from office. The first was authorizing the President to appoint Ambassadors and other officers, for whose appointment the Constitution itself did not provide. This provision contemplated two things, nomination and appointment. The nomination was to be made by the President alone; the appointment by and with the consent of the Senate. There being no express provision for removal, that power was evidently to be regarded as a mere incident of the powers of appointment, it being necessary that a vacancy should exist before it could be filled. Then, since the power of appointment did not belong to the President alone, but to him and to the Senate, the conclusion was inevitable that other powers implied in this power of removal also belonged to the President and Senate together, and not to the President alone, and, therefore, that the President could not constitutionally make removals during the recess of the Senate. This view seemed to be sustained by the other provisions authorizing the President to fill a vacancy that may happen during the recess, and by implication denying he has power to create vacancies when the Senate is not in session. In conclusion he said it was the duty of the Senate to preserve this law, because, if once repealed, no matter how great the necessity for it might be at any future time, it probably could never be reenacted. He would vote for its suspension, because he thought it required certain modifications which could not be considered this session, and not at all for the reason given by other Senators, that if the law was left in force it would embarrass the President, because he did not believe that with the law or without it the President would have any right to make removals during the recess of the Senate.

Mr. MORTON thought all the arguments in favor of the law far-fetched, based solely on technical grounds, and sufficiently answered by the history and practice of the government for seventy-eight years. The position of Senators who made long and ingenious arguments to show the constitutionality, wisdom and necessity of the law, and then announced they were willing to suspend it, reminded him of the well known gentleman who was strongly in favor of the Maine liquor law, but opposed to its enforcement. [Laughter.]

At four the Senate, on motion of Mr. DRAKE, went into Executive Session and soon after adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

The Secretary of the Treasury was directed to state the present condition of the St. Louis Custom House.

The resolution extending the time for taking testimony in contested elections was adopted.

The Indian appropriation bill was made the special order for to-morrow.

A joint resolution supplying omissions in the enrollment of some of the general appropriation bills of last session was reported. One of them requires the bonded warehouse owners to reimburse the Government for salaries of Storekeepers.

Mr. BLACK argued against the bonded warehouse proposition.

Mr. BUTLER, Mass., explained and advocated the proposition, which he said had been unanimously agreed upon by the Committee of Conference at three o'clock on the morning of the 4th of March, and which was at that hour the law of the land. But it being a matter which took one million five hundred thousand dollars out of the pockets of whisky dealers, of course the provision dropped out in the enrollment of the bill. He didn't know who was to blame.

Mr. WASHBURNE, Wisconsin, asked whether he meant to charge that it was omitted intentionally?

Mr. BUTLER, in reply, recited the anecdote of the fool, who told the miller he knew the miller's hogs were always fat, but didn't know on whose corn they were fattened.

Mr. WASHBURNE remarked that it was a very serious matter. If the enrolling clerks were guilty of the offense, it should be known, and he hoped the gentleman from Massachusetts would take means to have it made known.

Mr. BUTLER said he did not know who was responsible. He was informed that it was an accident which had happened over and over again in former Congresses. He did not think it proper to discuss the merits of the question now. It had been the law, but either through a blunder or something worse, the law had been altered.

Mr. SCHENCK defended the enrolling clerk from any imputation on his integrity. The principal enrolling clerk, whom he knew to be a worthy officer, had informed him that he and the other clerks had been working for forty consecutive hours and were completely exhausted when the Conference report on this particular appropriation bill was sent to them from which to make up several items in enrolling. The report as presented to them was confused and difficult to be understood, and hence the clause in question had been overlooked. He (Mr. Schenck) had no knowledge of any such item being in the bill, but he undertook to say from his knowledge of the principal enrolling clerk, that he was as incapable of having designedly omitted anything proper to be inserted in a bill as any member of the House, no matter who. He protested against all such legislation in appropriation bills, and argued particularly against returning to the system of making inspectors creatures and tools of distillers.

Mr. BUTLER held up the managership of the Conference Committee, and called attention to the omitted paragraph, which he said was underscored with heavy black lines. He also commented on the fact that the opposition to the resolution came from the Chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means, from the gentleman from Kentucky, (Mr. Beck,) who represented one of the largest distilleries in the United States, from the Chairman of the Committee on Enrolled Bills, (Mr. Holman,) who had made a point of order upon it, and whose duty it was to see that the bill was properly enrolled.

Mr. SCHENCK explained how easily such a mistake might be made, without imputing any improper design, and remarked that so far as he knew of the officers of the House and members of the Committee on Enrolling Bills, they were at least as little likely to attempt to commit fraud on anybody as the gentleman from Massachusetts. The gentleman might talk about the necessity of imposing more and more tax on distilled spirits and tobacco, but all he had to say was that Congress had fixed what that tax was to be. The people should know by general system how much tax is charged on whisky and how much on tobacco, and not have to go to appropriation bills to find out what additional burdens are imposed on these articles.

Mr. HOLMAN replied to the remark of Mr. Butler, that the suggestion was entirely unworthy of any gentleman occupying a seat on the floor. It was the first time in his experience that any gentleman had thought proper to couple such a mistake with the presumption that by any possibility it might have been the result of design to defeat the will of Congress by corrupt dealing in the enrollment of an act. He did not know by what authority or command of position the gentleman from Massachusetts indulged in such insinuation. The intimation was not only false, but could only have been suggested by a willingness to perpetrate just such a fraud on the legislation of the country.

Mr. DAWES remarked the Committee on Appropriations had looked into the matter and found no occasion to intimate lack of integrity on the part of any officers connected with the enrollment of bills.

Mr. KNOTT argued the proposition to impose additional burdens on manufacturers of whisky and tobacco was bad faith on the part of Congress.

Mr. ALLISON believed the present tax was sufficiently high, without imposing additional burdens; but still he should vote to make the correction, because both Houses agreed to the paragraph. It could be repealed, if it was deemed right to do so.

Mr. LYNCH moved to amend the paragraph by making it apply only to Internal Revenue Bonded Warehouses.

Mr. DEWEES presumed there would be no objection to the amendment.

Mr. ALLISON said there would be.

Mr. LYNCH explained the omitted paragraph was intended only to apply to the revenue warehousas, but its language was broad enough to make it apply to custom warehouses.

Mr. SCHENCK proposed that when the House was called on to correct a blunder of a clerk, it correct also a blunder of legislation. Such a provision should not have been in an appropriation bill. The reduction of the tax on whisky had worked well, and should not be affected in such a way. Last year the tax had produced $13,000,000, but now it was producing at the rate of $50,000,000 a year. The Government could, therefore, well afford to pay its own officers to do its own business. The fact that it was doing so now had probably had much to do with the larger collection of revenue from that source. He protested against this whole system of legislation in appropriation bills about taxes, about offices, about finances, and about everything else.

Mr. BUTLER said that the question was whether an enrolling clerk, by accident or design, should be allowed to change a law taking millions from the treasury; and whether, when it comes back to the House for correction, there can be a lobby brought into requisition to prevent such correction. He did not know that there was a lobbying pressure in favor of keeping this provision out of the law.

Mr. SCHENCK—Will the gentleman state from what source that pressure comes, and on whom it has been directed?

Mr. BUTLER—Every man can see as well as I can see: every man can understand as well as I can understand; and I am not to be diverted from any argument by any attempt to get up a side issue.

Mr. SCHENCK—No side issue at all. The gentleman intimated that there is a lobby here pressing to prevent this paragraph being put back. I want him to reduce this flying of his, if he dare, to the shape of a direct charge against anybody.

Mr. BUTLER—I dare stand up for the Treasury of the United States. The gentleman from Ohio has high courage to stand up for the whisky ring. The country may judge between us.

Mr. SCHENCK—The gentleman may state that which he knows to be untrue, if he knows anything about it.

Mr. BUTLER—I supposed the result would be that we should get into some such discussion. I understand the gentleman from Ohio thoroughly. I know all his ins and outs, and some day he shall have them investigated when he desires it.

Mr. SCHENCK—When you please.

Mr. BUTLER—I shall take care it shall be done.

Mr. SCHENCK—Just when you please.

Mr. BUTLER—But let us not be diverted from this question. I find that the clerk who dropped out this item in the enrollment of the bill has been, before the question came up in the House, stating his case to the Chairman of the Committee of Ways and Means, and has found an advocate in him.

Mr. SCHENCK—I never heard of the case before that clerk came to my seat, while the gentleman from Massachusetts was making an abusive attack upon him, or somebody, for doing what his own colleague (Mr. Dawes) admits was nothing but an accident.

Mr. BUTLER—I am confined to parliamentary language, and yet I have not received it. I made no abusive attack on anybody. I stated the facts, and I state them again. At three o'clock in the morning this provision was in the law; at five o'clock it was not in the law. There was a million and a half dollar a year interested in having it fail, and it

SONG.

My thoughts are gentle waves that run
Ever to thee their golden shore;
Soft glowing airs that, with the sun,
Fondle their beauty o'er and o'er;
Glad mounting larks, by whom is given,
All their sweet joy to thee, their heaven.

My hopes are violets that steal
To sweet life round thy blooming Spring;
Swallows that o'er thee playful wheel,
And track thy May with happy wing;
Motes that dance in thy sun, and bless
Their hours, with thee and happiness.

My songs are bees that to thee rose
Of thy dear beauty murmuring cling;
Where'er thy May of gladness cling.
Thy hovering boom on happy glows;
Thy flush of sweets, how can they see
Nor murmur joy and love to thee!

My dreams are loving stars of June,
Hung over thee, their world, by night;
My life is one warm Summer's moon
That clasps thee in a throbbing light;
All my glad moments can but be
Moths lured by thy sweet light to thee.

The Hair Thief.

[From the New York Sun.]

Many of our readers will remember an account of the theft of a curl at the Tammany Theatre, published in the Sun a few days since, and being surprised and startled thereat. But this is by no means so uncommon an occurrence as would at first appear. The thief happened to be detected in this one instance, which gave the matter publicity; but many New York ladies and their friends can testify, as doubtless those of other cities, to the fact of returning home from opera and balls, and even promenades, minus a back curl, which on examination, in many instances, proved to have been cut off, and not lost, as they at first supposed.

THE BUSINESS OF THE HAIR THIEF

Is as much a trade or profession as that of the counterfeiter or forger, though perhaps not so extensive as either. When we consider the amount of hair worn for the past five or six years by every fashionable woman, we can form some idea of what must have been, and still is the demand for it by the trade; and when we reflect again as to the comparatively small number of women in France, Belgium, Germany and Italy, who voluntarily sell their hair, we cannot but admit that, to supply the markets, not only of those countries, but of Great Britain and America as well, the hair derived from such sources must be altogether inadequate, and the insufficiency be the cause of encouragement to the hair thief.

The plan of the hair thief is to obtain admission to a crowded ball room, such balls as are given by the Liederkranz Society, the Arion, and others, but more generally where full dress is worn, and not costumes. Here, in the over-crowded lobbies, or upon the floor he carries on his operations. Sometimes he is in league with a woman, who accompanies him to the ball, and has an additional advantage in having access to the ladies' dressing and cloak rooms. A capital opportunity, as well, is afforded the hair thief among the spectators seated in the galleries; and another and still better one, perhaps, during the hurry of departure, and the crush attending the final exit. Sometimes he watches his chance, and quietly and all unnoticed clips with the point of his shears the precious curl from its attachment and secretes it about his person. Again, during the dance, or in passing from one part of the house to another, a flowing tress or ringlet will become entangled with some gentleman's button. The hair thief is ever on the alert, he is ever watchful, no opportunity misses him; he at one becomes officious in his efforts to relieve the lady from her embarassed position, and with a skillful movement relieves her at the same time of her hirsute appendage.

NO PLACE IS SACRED TO HIM.

As is the case with the House of God which he enters for the purpose of pursuing his nefarious calling, so also is the chamber of death. To him all places are alike, no one is exempt.

It is hardly six months since the following occurrence came to the knowledge of the writer. A wealthy and aristocratic family residing in one of our up-town streets was blessed with a daughter, a lovely girl of sixteen, of rare beauty and accomplishments. Almost perfect both in face and figure, which last was graceful as a willow, her chief glory, nevertheless, was in her hair, which was of richest chestnut color, and flowed in shining ripples even beyond her waist. "The good die first," and the beautiful, the poet might have added, for this radiant creature, this being of such rare beauty and goodness, remained not as a joy to those who loved her, but ere the bud had yet matured into the full blown flower, death claimed it for his own, and while in the calm and statue-like repose of that sleep that knows no waking upon this world, with the splendor of her soft brown hair framing the sculptured beauty of her face, she lay upon her couch, while yet no one watched beside it, the hair-thief gained admittance into the house and into that chamber by some mysterious talisman, some secret open sesame, with sacriligious hand robbed the fair corpse of its silken tresses, to add to the griefs of the stricken family, a dread and a horror that no words can describe.

TAKING IN VAIN THE NAMES OF AMERICAN SAVANS.—Prof. John Wilson, of Edinburgh University, writes to the Athenæum to complain that on February 2d he received a note from Dr. James Bryant Smith, styling himself Professor of Organic Chemistry in Yale College, and stating that he and Profs. B. Silliman and George Brush were over in this country for the purpose of exchanging and purchasing minerals for their College, and that on their way from London to Dublin he had unwittingly got into a wrong carriage at Chester, and been conveyed to Liverpool, while his companions had gone on to Holyhead and thence to Ireland. His baggage, coat, and all his available funds, had gone with them, and he was without money sufficient to enable him to come to Edinburgh, where his friends expected to arrive on the following Sunday, and where he should be sure to meet them, as he was not aware of their intended movements at Dublin. Prof. Wilson at once forwarded an order for 5*l.*,—as he himself, as well as Profs. S. and B., were well known acquaintances. The Edinburgh Professor wrote afterwards to Dublin and London, without tracing the errant Americans, and has every reason to believe they have never left Yale College.

CLIPPINGS.

LOCOMOTIVE boilers, it is reported, can be kept free from scale by introducing about once in three months twelve pounds of zinc in half ounce pieces. The zinc is said to dissolve and cover the inner surface of the flues with a thin coating.

BURMESE LITERATURE.—It is announced that the Emperor Napoleon III. has just received from the "King of the Birmans" a present of twenty-eight volumes of Buddhist manuscript. They are supposed to form a work entitled "The Triple Basket," written on palm leaves and bound in cedar wood.

SOME of the railroads in this State are replacing the steel rail with the iron rail, for the reason that experience is beginning to prove that steel rail cannot be made uniform by the process now in operation, and that hence, with imperfect mixed with perfect rails, on long railroads, great risks of accident are daily incurred.

THE Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to animals announce their determination to stop the cruel practice by butchers of bleeding calves, which is done for the sole purpose of making the veal white. Some butchers are in the habit of keeping calves without food or drink for one week, bleeding them daily—a cruelty as monstrous as it is unnecessary.

THE son of the Rev. Mr. Montague, residing at Whitewater, Wisconsin, was delivering a college valedictory address a short time ago, when, in taking his handkerchief from his pocket, he pulled out a pack of cards, which fell to the floor. "Hulloa!" he exclaimed, "I've got on my father's coat." The worthy divine, who sat in front, was more confused than his hopeful scion.

THE proprietors of plate glass works in a Massachusetts town are experimenting for use in table-tops, mantels, etc., with a new article resembling porcelain, made from cryolite, a mineral brought from Greenland, whose name the manufactured article will take. They are also turning glass to the novel use of mouldboards for ploughs, for certain western prairie lands, whose soil is very destructive to iron.

JEROME CARDAN relates that eight reapers, who were eating their dinner under an oak tree, were all struck by the same flash of lightning, the explosion of which was heard far away. When some people passing by approached to see what had happened, they found the reapers, to all appearance, continuing their repast. One still held his glass in his hand, another was in the act of putting a piece of bread in his mouth, and a third had his head in the dish.

GREAT interest is felt in England in reference to the newly invented, already patented, procedure of Mr. Heaton, Director of the iron furnaces in Langley, near Nottingham, by which common raw iron is converted into steel. The procedure is of a chemical, and not mechanical nature, and it saves much time and labor, and reduces the cost of production several pounds sterling for each ton. The main ingredient in the process is nitrous natron. Experiments made lately showed splendid results as to the tension and strength of the steel produced.

The markets in a general way present but little that is really new or important. There seems to be a more cheerful feeling in commercial circles, and the feeling is gaining ground that there will be a good Spring trade, and that the dullness and depression which have so long prevailed, will be succeeded by that bouyancy and activity which usually prevails at this season of the year.

RIVER NEWS.

There have been no arrivals since the date of our last report with the exception of the regular packets.

The Wild Duck and Lorena from St. Louis, are among the first boats due.

The river remains about stationary at this point with seven feet six inches in the channel by the Monongahela marks.

The weather continues clear and cold.

The Savanna left for the Upper Mississippi yesterday with a good trip, including quite a number of passengers.

The new steamer Carrie V. Kountz, departed for Fort Benton, Capt. I. C. Vanhook in command. She has, we understand, engagements below.

The Bayard, Capt. Geo. D. Moore, is the regular packet for Parkersburg today, leaving promptly at noon.

The Silver Lake No. 4, Capt. Todd, is announced for St. Louis and Missouri River, forthwith.

The Messenger, Capt. Jesse Dean, is announced to leave for the Upper Mississippi this evening. She is an excellent boat, and offers superior inducements to passengers.

The Glasgow another good boat, Capt. Andy Robinson, Jr., is also announced for the Upper Mississippi forthwith.

The Kate Putnam departed for Cincinnati and Louisville, last evening, with a good trip.

The America, Capt. James Hamilton, takes her departure for St. Louis to-day, and passengers and shippers should bear this in mind. Capt. A. S. Shepard has charge of the office.

The Carrie V. Kountz had 500 tons on leaving here and 125 tons engaged below.

—The Emma and Mollie Ebert were loading at Cincinnati, for Pittsburgh, on Tuesday.

—The Armadillo, St. Louis to Pittsburgh, was at Cairo on Tuesday, as was also the Leonidas, from New Orleans.

—The Sallie, Pittsburgh to the mountains, also left Cincinnati on Tuesday, with a splended trip. Pilots—James Madison and John Kirkpatrick.

—The Maggie Hays, Pittsburgh to St. Louis, left Cincidnati on Monday full of passengers and loaded to her utmost capacity both boat and barge. Pilots—Barney Clark and Chas Boyer.

—The New Albany Ledger, of Monday states that Capt. Stein, of the P. W. Strader, had to pay Jesse Mitchell, of Bedford, Ind., $550 for keeping live stock on board three or four days after the advertised time of the departure of the boat. The Strader had agreed to take a lot of 100 horses at lower rates than the Virginia, and after the departure of the latter she laid over several days.

—The Cincinnati Gazette of Tuesday says: There was a report on the wharfboat last evening, that the G. A. Thomson, now on her way here from Arkansas river, with Captain Alex. Frazier in command, had been sold to parties in Louisville for $10,000. It was further reported that Captain Frazier would take command of the Lady Grace on the arrival here of the G. A. Thomson.

—Captain Frank Hicks, of the Magenta, and Captain Nat. Green of the Mississippi, are having a lively time over the bell-rope prize offered by W. M. Williams, Esq., of Vicksburg, Mississippi, to the boat carrying the largest trip of cotton into the port of New Orleans. Hicks has forwarded a certificate from his discharging clerk, stating that the Magenta had the largest number of bales, without mentioning the number, however, while the Mississippi's books show that she delivered 4,113 bales on the wharf. From the present aspect of affairs it would seem almost impossible to decide which boat is justly entitled to the prize, and it is more than likely that a little swearing will have to be resorted to.

—St. Louis advices of Monday report as follows: The Kate Robinson brought a large load of passengers and full freight. All Cincinnati boats arrived here heavily laden. Captain Davidson has arrived here, and roports the compromise between the Northern and White Collar Lines consummated. When the river opens to Dubuque, the White Collar boats will run in the St. Louis and Keokuk trade. The White Collar Line will fix rates from Dubuque to St. Paul, and the Northern Line fix them below Dubuque, each Line adopting the tariff of the other. Large cargoes of grain and other produce are coming out of the Illinois river. Several barges with wheat and corn in bulk for New York have already arrived here, and quite a number of others are to follow. The trade of that river promises to be very large this season.

—The St. Louis Republican thus savagely "goes for" the Richmond's Headlight: Some one has sent us two marked copies of a dirty, scurrilous little sheet—published on the steamer Richmond—a so-called packet between Louisville and New Orleans, known as the "Richmond's Headlight;" the copies mentioned are dated off Memphis, March 10th, and contain three low flung slings at St. Louis steamers, one of which is intended for the Ruth, and another for the Great Republic. Mr. Will. L. Visscher, editor (!) of the Headlight, may think it bare wit to pen such articles, but when gentlemen read them, the natural inference is drawn that the author is quite the reverse of either a wit or a gentleman. It is not to be supposed that either Captain Neal, commander, or Captain Woolfolk, chief clerk of the Richmond, indorses any such conduct on the part of an attache to their boat; yet they will meet with their share of censure. The steamers alluded to by the Headlight have an established reputation on Western waters that, in every respect, is equal, and in many respects, superior to that established by the much vaunted and so-called "low-pressure thirty-five pound steamer."

IT WAS developed in the House, yesterday, that in enrolling the Appropriation Bill, the item requiring whisky dealers to refund to the Government the amount paid as salaries to store keepers, amounting in the aggregate to nearly two million dollars, had been dropped out. Whether the mistake resulted from accident or fraud can but be surmised, but it is not improbable that it was unintentionally omitted. The Government is interested in having it restored.

THE RUMOR, that the President has declared his unwillingness to make removals of officials to any considerable extent, until the Senate makes some disposition of the pending bill to repeal the Tenure-of-Office Law, may be set down as a pure canard, more mischievous in its intent than in its effects. The opposition are industrious in their efforts to turn the questions relative to this law to the embarrassment of our friends, but the game will not pay their expenses.

IN DEFERENCE to the personal solicitations of large numbers of disappointed aspirants for office, the Republican Senators and Representatives from Pennsylvania met again, on Tuesday evening, to hear objections to the existing understanding relative to the control of the local Federal appointments. But a protracted deliberation afforded no new or valid objections to that understanding, which was finally re-affirmed by the meeting, thus leaving the question in that attitude which will be most satisfactory to all disinterested persons.

THE Cincinnati Enquirer, a leading Democratic journal of Ohio, "upon more mature consideration" advises its friends in the Legislature of that State not to shirk the responsibility of a vote on the ratification of the XVth Article, as at first proposed, but to face the music at once. And this, the Enquirer puts on the ground that the people of Ohio had fully expressed their opinion of equal suffrage by the large majority which rejected the State proposition in 1867. But that journal, as do the residue of the Democratic press in other States as well as in Ohio, finds it convenient to forget that, upon their own showing, as attested by their files throughout the canvass, the Presidential election of '68 was contested upon precisely the same ground; the results of that canvass are by this time pretty well known. For months, it was the staple argument of the opposition journals against the Republican candidate, that his election meant equal suffrage, irrespective of race or condition. One and all, they discounted the whole question last year. In Ohio, the vote for GRANT must be accepted, as in fact what the Enquirer had, month after month, declared that the Electoral vote for him would be—a reversal of the decision of '67, and an absolute popular judgment upon one of the sharpest of the Presidential issues. The new light, which now breaks out of "a more mature consideration" upon the Enquirer's understanding, is the warning red-light, to its friends at Columbus, of danger that the people of Ohio will again reaffirm their judgment of last November, and to the effectual exclusion of any future accidental Democratic majorities from their Legislative halls.

THE ANNUAL MEETING of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railway Company was held in this city yesterday, when the President submitted a report of the year's operations. The results are of a gratifying character to the stockholders, showing their property to be in an excellent condition, and with the promise of a prosperous future.

During the year, the Company has subscribed $50,000 for the construction of a branch from Clinton, on the Akron line, to Massillon, a point on the main line. This branch is to be completed by July next.

It is announced that the future business connections with the Pennsylvania Railroad are to be upon terms as favorable as the latter shall extend to other roads in which she has a pecuniary interest.

The Report states that the Directors have subscribed $300,000 to the stock of the new road from Indianapolis to Terre Haute, and that the entire line of 460 miles, from Indianapolis to St. Louis, soon to be completed, will then be owned by a Company in which the Fort Wayne holds one half the share capital.

No reference whatever appears, in the Report, to any arrangement or negotiation with the Erie Company, unless it may be included in "the usual arrangements with connecting roads, for interchange of business."

The meeting unanimously adopted the Legislative Act classifying the Directors of the Company, and but three of these officers were accordingly chosen.

GEORGIA.

The Senate Judiciary Committee reports back, without substantial amendment, the bill of Mr. EDMUNDS repealing the Act admitting Georgia, and re-establishing a provisional government in that State. The credentials of the Georgia Senators were also reported back to await the action of the Senate upon the bill.

This is a somewhat different Senate from that body which, some weeks ago, recognized the Electoral vote of Georgia as legal. There has since been an infusion of new members, all of whom are likely to favor a thorough and decided policy towards the State—a policy much more in accordance with the general sentiment of the public. We are not altogether without a hope that this policy may be settled upon, in both Houses, before the close of the present session. The social and political condition of Georgia is such as to demand the earliest attention and the wisest firmness on the part of Congress. The State is now peculiarly the theatre of a lawless and violent spirit, which seems to have been elsewhere suppressed, but which finds a congenial protection among a people who are to-day successfully defying the Federal authority, and trampling upon their legal obligations to the Union. This condition of things daily grows worse—and we shall look in vain for any improvement until our friends at Washington apply the only effective remedy for the current mischiefs. The Georgia rebels have not yet been reconstructed, and will not be until they feel the full strength of the Federal hand.

When we have the end of discussions upon the Tenure-of-Office, we may begin reasonably to expect that some other matters of serious National concern will receive their long-needed attention. Until that time, we cannot avoid regarding this Georgia business as worse than a running ulcer upon the body politic, which might be easily healed, but left uncured and uncared for, is slowly corrupting all constitutional republicanisms in the South.

THE SOUTH ON LONGSTREET.

The Louisville Courier-Journal states that General LONGSTREET "has received and accepted" his appointment in the Customs at New Orleans. It is not improbable that our cotemporary is in error so far as the alleged acceptance is concerned, the general impression being that the General has declined the commission.

But there is no mistake as to the spirit in which that journal, representing no doubt, the sentiment of a numerous class at the South, receives this overture for peace from the present administration. The services of the General to the cause of secession and rebellion are distinctly acknowledged, but, apparently for the purpose of presenting the contrast between that glorious career and his present "self-humiliation and abasement" in the more odious light, his haste to "succumb to all the exactions proposed by the treacherous and insolent foe" is denounced by the Courier in the bitterest terms. As "an aspirant for the favor of the remorseless oppressors of his section" his case is held up to the public scorn as "one of a class of cases at the South"—a class so numerous, says that journal, that "there are hundreds and even thousands of obscure apostates who are seeking the rewards of their perfidy and shamelessness." It adds:

> In truth the entire mass of place-hunters in that section, native-born scalawags, negroes and carpet-baggers, to say nothing of here and there a Longstreet, are corrupt and mercenary traitors to their principles and their friends.

We learn, from this Louisville paper, that the defection of Gen. LONGSTREET—that is to say his loyal acceptance of the reconstructed situation of the South—was, for a time, regarded by his late friends as "an unfortunate idiosyncrasy;" the idea that he could be induced "to accept office or place was repudiated as dishonorable to a Southern hero. But no, he has industriously sought and promptly received his reward," for deserting from "the whole masses of the respectable white population of the South, who have felt deeply outraged" by the "hard and oppressive terms" which the Federal government has exacted, in violation of "certain well understood conditions."

It is this sort of talk which has done so much injury to the South, and which still stands in the way of her solid interests. The folly of such attempts to keep alive the embers of sectional hate among her people, may very mildly be termed suicidal. We are glad to be assured, however, by our Louisville cotemporary, that there are thousands of LONGSTREETS who have given in their adhesion to the Radical cause, and we may hope that their example shall have the influence which our cotemporary evidently fears.

DREGS OF THE WAR.

At the close of the war, after the two great contending armies were disbanded, and vast number of soldiers, infatuated with the reckless lives they had so long been leading in the camp, were suddenly thrown into the walks of civil life, it was feared, even by those who had the largest faith in the character of our people as "citizens to-day and soldiers to-morrow," that distressing consequences would follow to society therefrom. Indeed, for some time after the war had ended, grave alarm was everywhere manifested that the people would suffer seriously, crime increase, the industries become neglected, and wickedness and idleness mark society generally, as the legitimate consequences of the transfer from the excitement of the scene of battle of so many men whose tastes for the peace and order of quiet civil life were lost in their passions for nomadic existences, change and adventure. The first really grave effect of the transition was felt in the agricultural districts. During the continuance of the war, the burden of farm labor principally rested on aged and infirm men, too weak to enter the hardships of military campaigning, and on women who gladly gave up their husbands, sons and brothers to fight in the cause they espoused. Their powers of endurance and capacity for labor were heavily taxed, and long before the war ceased gave evidence of exhaustion. The young men, drawn from the farm into the army, on their return, as a general thing, showed little disposition to take up a labor no longer congenial to their tastes, or in accordance with their desire for excitement. They cared not to enlist in the humble ranks of the producers but flocked to the cities to lead aimless lives waiting for something to turn up. On the farm they were useful and expert, in the army they formed the best of fighting material; but, not trained to business, having no trade or profession, they became useless to society and themselves. They were slowly driven back to the country, and, taught wisdom by experience, became once more honest and sturdy yeomen. The cities are no longer overcrowded with their presence, and in the short period of four years things have assumed the old fashioned condition of before the war.

The war left another class, by no means so large, who, naturally possessed of adventurous and romantic dispositions, were at a loss to employ their wits and time after the soldiers' occupation was gone. They constitute in this country what is known as the gunpowder element of France. They would hail with pleasure the outbreak of a war with a foreign country, and gladly rejoice for an opportunity to again keep step to the martial music of fife and drum and march into the thickest of battle. It is not surprising therefore, that taking advantage of the presence of these restless men in the country, military adventurers should look to Cuba with covetous eyes and revolve the problem of capturing that rich island now plunged in the miseries of revolution. That the idea has been entertained of sending from this country a filibustering expedition to Cuba, there can be little doubt; but that it has assumed any tangible form is yet to be seen. In time of peace, when the American people had little of the war spirit in them, WALKER, the Nicaraguan hero, had no difficulty in obtaining a formidable force to carry out his famous filibustering expedition. Should some equally enterprising adventurer arise to-day and fling to the breeze his banner for Cuba or death, thousands would be found willing to enlist, if actuated by no higher ambition than to grow rich in the spoils which would ensue the taking of the valuable prize. We do not look on the organization of such an expedition as an improbable event. Even now the Charleston papers assert that several such expeditions have sailed or are about to sail for Cuba from the coasts of South Carolina and Georgia, one of them conducted by Gen. JOURDAN, late of the Confederate army. Whether the announcement be true or false, future events will decide. The Government has had no official intimation of the departure of enthusiasts, else, doubtless, they would have been held prisoners at home. Such a movement, however, will prove popular, although decidedly unlawful and unwise, and draw that large class, to which we have referred, into its sympathy and to lend hearty co-operation. The law-abiding citizens will frown on any violation of the neutrality laws or national honor, and no matter what success may attend such expeditions, the projectors may come to grief in the end. The spirit of conquest and desire to invade other soils, carrying with them the fire brand of war, is not the least important dreg left by our late war, and the sooner it is extinguished the better for all.

PITTSBURGH, FORT WAYNE AND CHICAGO RAILWAY.

Seventh Annual Meeting of the Stockholders—Annual Report of the President and Board of Directors—Election of Directors.

The seventh annual meeting of the stockholders of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railway was held Wednesday, at the office of the Company, at the corner of Penn and Tenth streets. The meeting was organized shortly after ten o'clock by calling J. S. Craft, Esq., of Pittsburgh, to the chair, and appointing F. M. Hutchison, Esq., as Secretary.

The seventh annual report of President Cass was then read by the Secretary, of which we make the following abstract:

Your Board of Directors, in making this, its seventh Annual Report, congratulate you on the prosperity that has attended the business of the company during the last fiscal year. While it entertained a hope during the entire months of the year of moderate increase in the gross and net revenue, such hope has been more than realized in the gratifying result attained, exhibiting, as it does, a large increase in the gross earnings, and a relative reduction in the expenses.

The earnings of the main line were—

From all sources	$8.041,180 70

The gross earnings per mile of the company in 1868 were $17,174, being an increase of $1,706 29 per mile.

The expenses incurred in transacting the foregoing amount of business were $5,002,110 60, showing an absorption of 61 1-5 per cent. of the earnings, which is 5 per cent. less than in 1867.

Cash on hand		962,132 70
Total		$26 887,075 08

The unexpected large increase of the gross receipts for the year, without a corresponding increase of the business of the Cleveland and Pittsburgh Railroad, causes under the contract for a division of the joint earnings, a large sum to be paid that Company out of the earnings made by the road of this Company. Experience no doubt will soon enable us so to adjust the per centage due to each, so to practically conform to the earnings due on the business belonging legitimately to the respective Companies.

This organization, recently perfected, is now engaged in building a railroad, about twelve miles in length, from Massilon to Clinton, on the Akron branch, which will open a new line to Cleveland, over the latter road for the county contiguous to the main line, between Orville and Alliance. The Board of Directors have subscribed for one thousand shares ($50,000) of the capital stock of the Massilon and Cleveland Railroad Company. The whole road is under contract, and will be in use by the first of July of this year.

An analysis of the business of the Eastern Division (between Pittsburgh and Crestline, 188 miles) shows that the tonage, especially between way stations, continues to increase largely, and is nearly in the same ratio in both directions—the large trade from the New Castle, Lawrence Branch, having caused the eastward movement to preponderate over the Westward movement about eleven and a half per cent.

The increase of earnings of the Western Division was $92,209, or 20 3-5 per cent. in the number of passengers carried, of which increase about twenty-five per cent. occurred in the local trade; some $85,564,83, seven per cent. in the revenue received.

The condition of the road and of its equipments have been greatly improved, while the motive power and rolling stock facilities have been largely increased.

The report refers to the fact of the increase of travel on the Eastern Division of the road, and states that it warrants the extension of the runs of the present accommodations trains to Enon Valley in one case and Beaver Falls in another. This new arrangement is expected to take place in April. Reference is also made to the imperative necessity, in consequence of increased travel, for the extension of the double track from Rochester, the present terminus, to Beaver Summit, a distance of nearly ten miles. This work will be put under contract and will be ready for use during the present season.

The report then refers to the completion and opening of the Central and Union Pacific Railroads during the present year, and to the immense traffic which will follow. A full share of this traffic, the President informs the stockholders, may be expected for their road, owing to its eligible local, its western connections, and from the fact that it affords the shortest and best line between the two oceans. In order to meet this prospective increased traffic, continued expenditures for new equipments, additional sidings will be necessary, besides increased facilities in the way of station houses, machine shops, etc. To provide means for making these improvements the Board has caused $500,000, five year bonds, bearing eight per cent. interest to be isssued which will be known as "Equipment Bonds."

The report refers to the policy of aggregating capital and roads, which still continues, and states that the "public prints have, without sufficient reason, identified this company and railway in these movements." Since the date of the last report, no contract arrangement or alliance of any kind has been made with any other railroad company, other than the usual arrangement with connecting roads, for interchange of business. In order to quiet apprehension on the part of some of the stockholders, the report states, the passage of the law modifying the charter so that the terms of only a portion of the Board should terminate at each successive annual election, was secured. The report then gives the classification of the Board, made under the provisions of the law referred to, fixing the terms of the members for four, three, two and one years, by which arrangement three Directors will be elected each year.

The report then states that the only combination of railway interest (so far as their property is concerned,) which has taken place during the year, is the practical absorption, by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company of the road and branches of the Columbus, Chicago and Indiana Central Railroad Company, through a lease by the P. C. and St. Louis Railway Company, the majority of the stock of the last named company being owned and voted upon by the Pennsylvania Company. After referring to the effects that this change may have, the report says: "We have the assurances of the present officers of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, that it is their intention to so liberally manage their roads west of Pittsburgh, as not to improperly interfere with the business of this company, and that the Pennsylvania Railroad shall always be open for the business of this road, in either direction, on terms as favorable as those roads in which she is pecuniarily interested."

The report makes reference to the failure to make an arrangement with the Terre Haute and Indianapolis Railroad Company, and the necessity imposed on the Indianapolis and St. Louis Railroad Company to construct a parallel road from Indianapolis to Terre Haute. Towards the construction of this road the Directors have subscribed six thousand shares (at fifty dollars each,) to the capital stock, and the C. C. C. & B. road have subscribed a like amount. When completed, the line from Indianapolis to St. Louis (460 miles,) will pass under the management of the Indianapolis and St. Louis Railroad Company, of which this Company will be owner of one-half the share capital, and have an equal voice in the management.

Reference is made to the progress of the Connellsville Railroad Company towards completion to Cumberland, and to the extension of the Allegheny Valley Railroad to the Susquehanna valley, and the opinion is expressed that these lines will increase the business over the road. The report concludes by congratulating the stockholders upon the fact that harmony and good feeling exists in all departments of the Company's service, and that it fully exhibits itself in the result as set forth in the report.

The report was unanimously adopted and ordered to be printed.

W. S. Hickox, of Mansfield, Ohio, offered the following, which was unanimously agreed to:

Resolved, That an issue of bonds, to be denominated "Equipment Bonds," bearing interest at the rate of eight per cent. (free of Government tax) per annum, and to be payable at such time or times as the Board of Directors may deem advisable, and amounting in the aggregate to one million dollars, including $500,000 heretofore authorized by the Board of Directors, be and the same is hereby authorized, consented to and recommended to the Board of Directors.

John Larwell, Esq., of Wooster, Ohio, offered the following, which was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the acceptance by the Board of Directors of the amendment made by the Legislature of Pennsylvania to the charter of the Company, authorizing a classification of the Board, be approved, and their action under it, and also that the acceptance by the Board of Directors of the act of the Legislature of Pennsylvania "Relating to railroad companies and common carriers, defining their liabilities, and authorizing them to provide means of indemnity against loss of life and personal injury," approved April 4th, 1868 be approved.

Resolved, That when this meeting adjourn it adjourn to meet at such time and place as may hereafter be designated by the President, on notice of ten days, to be published in the usual manner.

A motion was then adopted to proceed to the election of three Directors to fill the vacancy in the Board. The President appointed William Thaw, Esq., of Pittsburgh, and John M. Wilt, of Fort Wayne, Indiana, as Inspectors to conduct the election.

The election was then proceeded with under the provisions of the law passed by the present Legislature, and the result was announced as follows: For four years—Messrs. Wm. B. Ogden, Jesse L. Williams, L. H. Meyer. To the vacancy for two years—John Sherman.

The Board consists of the following members: George W. Cass, Pittsburgh, Pa.; Springer Harbaugh, Pittsburgh, Pa.; Edgar Thompson, Philadelphia, Pa.; Jno. L. Dawson, New Geneva, Fayette county, Pa.; J. F. D. Lanier, New York; Louis H. Meyer, New York; Samuel J. Tilden, New York; Plint Hoagland, Fort Wayne, Indiana; Jesse L. Williams, Fort Wayne, Indiana; Kent Jarvis, Massilon, Ohio; R. R. Springer, Cincinnati, Ohio; Hon. John Sherman, Mansfield, Ohio; W. B. Ogden, Chicago, Ill.

—Frank Nye and David Jones, commission merchants and members of the Board of Trade, of Chicago, were arrested last evening for swindling in the purchase and sale of oats. They were taken before Justice Dewolf and bail required to the amount of $2,000 each. This they were unable to give and were locked up.

Improvements in the County Buildings—Resolutions Adopted by the Grand Jury.

At a meeting of the Grand Jury held yesterday, (Wednesday,) March 17th, 1869, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That in the opinion of this Grand Inquest, our county archives and records in the Prothonotary's office are in daily and imminent peril from fire, and, in our judgment, cannot be removed too soon to a safe and fire-proof office or place of keeping.

Resolved, That the present condition of this Grand Jury room, and of consequence the Court room of the Quarter Sessions, beneath it, we regard as exceedingly dangerous to life and limb from want of proper support, and that it demands the earliest possible attention; otherwise at any time an accident may happen, the consequences of which, in personal and pecuniary loss to the county, it would be impossible to appreciate.

Resolved, That a speedy and proper administration of public justice demands that our facilities in regard to more, and more commodious court rooms, county office buildings for the accommodation of our county officials are largely increased, and to that end we endorse and recommend the plan of improvements as to our county buildings, recently adopted by our Prison Board for the county, and, to enable its speedy practical adoption, we request and earnestly urge upon our Representatives in the Lower House of the Legislature to at once adopt the Senate bill relating to the improvement of our county buildings and providing a means for the payment of the same.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions, duly signed by the Foreman of this Grand Inquest, and attested by the Secretary, be forwarded to each of our members of the House, as expressive of our wishes, and, as we believe, the wishes of the people of the county in the premises.

Amusements.

OPERA HOUSE.—The third appearance of Mr. Joseph Jefferson, last night, in Rip Van Winkle, was marked by one of the largest and most fashionable audiences of the season. It is useless for us to add one word of praise to that already bestowed by the keenest critics of the country on this inimitable leader in the higher walks of comedy. To-night the same bill is offered, and we urge our readers to put in an appearance if they would enjoy a rare feast of genuine merriment.

PITTSBURGH THEATRE.—The success of the new company at the Old Theatre is unprecedented, and it contiuues to grow more popular every day. Lillie Becket and La Petite Josie are especial favorites. Mrs. and Miss Wray and the Barlow Brothers are also favorably received, and Tim Hays is a favorite every place.

SMYTHE'S AMERICAN THEATRE.—Signor Cappolo, the great pantomimist and contortionist, is one of the strong attractions at the American Theatre this week. To-night "Ireland as It Is" will be presented, embracing in the cast the full strength of the company. The house will doubtless be crowded, as it is every night.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.—On Friday evening, the 19th instant, Mr. Theodore Tilton, the eminent writer and lecturer, will deliver a lecture at the Academy of Music, under the auspices of the Mercantile Library Association. Subject: "True Statesmanship." Admission fifty cents to all parts of the house, No reserved seats.

FAIR.—The Universalist Fair and Festival now in progress in the basement of the church, corner of Third avenue and Grant streets, is open every evening.

MUSEUM—The Museum at Franklin Hall, Fifth avenue, is crowded every day and evening.

BE CAREFUL.

At no season of the year is the above injunction of more weight than now. The changes of temperature have been so sudden from warm to excessive cold, that the human constitution, like everything else in Nature, feels the shock, and gives way to its impressions. Thousands of people who lie down at night, unconscious as it were, of injury to the constitution, wake up with hoarseness and coughs, which, unless the first symptoms are heeded, are apt to involve the lungs or some other of the vital organs in deep seated and incurable disease. If the fact were as well known to all our readers as to ourselves, that an infallible cure for most of these incipient ailments may be procured in DR. KEYSER'S LUNG CURE, the Doctor's new store would soon be too small to meet the exigencies required of it in the manufacture of this valuable medicine. Dr. Keyser's Lung Cure is without doubt a valuable desideratum in the cure of disease, a fact well known to thousands of people who have been relieved by its health-giving power. If the proper estimate were placed on human life and health, those who neglect coughs and colds would be fewer in number. Dr. Keyser would in no case, of a serious character, advise the dispensing with a doctor, but how many hundreds are there who, in the beginning of a disease, could be cured before a doctor could be reached. It is in these cases, as well as others of a more serious nature, that the lung cure comes to our aid and dispenses health and comfort, which otherwise would never be obtained. It is thus a handful of roots and herbs are made into a healing syrup, which is often the precursor of health and usefulness. The suffering invalid would often apply for relief if he knew where to promptly obtain it; and that it can be promptly obtained in Dr. Keyser's Lung Cure is no longer a doubtful problem. Let not the March winds make dangerous inroads upon your health, when, with a few doses of this syrup, you can fortify your system as well as drive out of it those noxious miasms which undermine its strongholds and render its exertions nugatory.

WITHOUT A GOOD DIGESTION

All other temporal blessings are comparatively worthless. The dyspeptic millionaire who has tried all the potions of the medical profession in vain, and believes his complaint to be incurable, would give half his fortune to be freed from the horrors of indigestion, and thus enabled to enjoy the other half. Of course he would.

Perhaps HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS has been recommended to such a sufferer. Possibly he has turned from the friend who made the suggestion with a sneer, intimating that he has no faith in any "patent medicine." If this has been the case, so much the worse for him. His incredulity dooms him to a life of misery. All the luxuries which wealth can purchase are at his command. Not one of them can give him pleasure. His own irrational obstinacy is his bane.

The masses, happily for themselves, are less skeptical. There is such a thing as bigoted unbelief, as well as bigoted credulity, and a golden mean between the two, which men and women who are gifted with common sense adopt and profit by. These are the class that patronize and recommend HOSTETTER'S BITTERS. Why do they approve this famous anti-dyspeptic and antibilious preparation? Simply because they have not been too much the slaves of senseless prejudice to give it a fair trial, and have found that when all other tonics, stimulants and stomachics failed, it produced the desired effect.

"Strike, but hear," said the Roman sage, when his ignorant enemies were assailing him. "Doubt, but try," says the man who has been cured of indigestion or biliousness, or intermittent fever, by the Bitters, as he relates his experience of the medicine to his invalid friends. Whoever is so wedded to his foregone theoretical conclusions, as to decline to test the properties of a medicine endorsed by the testimony of intelligent men in every walk of life, and approved by the people at large, deserves to suffer

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
WEDNESDAY, March 17, 1869.

Gold to-day was from 131½ to 131¾, with little disposition to sell. It is supposed that the large shipments of bonds to Europe will raise the rate of interest in London by the Bank of England to 4 per cent, and prevent shipments of coin from Europe and drawing specie from this country. If this is resorted to, a sharp advance in gold may be looked for, and a heavy decline in bonds here; even return shipments of bonds are likely to take place.

Bonds were dull and lower to-day, the decline averaging about one haf per cent. The old bonds are now neglected, the supply on the market being so small that orders can not be filled, and the speculative orders are executed in new bonds, especially in 1867 consols, which have also been used for shipment to Europe.

Railroad shares were weak, and if it was not for the short interest created yesterday, and on Monday, the market would yield much more. Fort Wayne, old Southern and the Northwestern shares are the only strong stock now dealt in, and mainly on their own merits; their earnings are rapidly increasing.

In local stocks we have but a dull market, except for an occasional sale of either Exchange Bank, Citizens or Mechanics Bank stock. Columbia oil sold last night at 20 against 24½ a few days ago. Allegheny county finds 6½ a good price.

NEW YORK, March 17, 1869.

The demand for money was lively early in the day and the market firm at 9 per cent. on call, but towards the close of bank hours the inquiry abated, and with liberally offerings loans were made at 6 per cent. Prime discount nominal at 7@10 per cent. Sterling weak; prime 8⅝@8⅞; sight 9¼. Gold was dull until afternoon, when the rumors that the Government was about to sell freely, and that there were to be liberal importations from Europe, occasioned a decline. Both reports are, however, improbable. The price opened at 131⅞ and closed at 131¼@131⅜. The rates paid for carrying ranged from 10@12 per cent. Clearances, $63,000,000.

Governments opened heavy and lower but became firm in the evening, on news that the President had signed the Public Credit bill. Coupons of 1881, 116⅛@116¾; do. '62, 119½@119¾; do. '64, 114⅞@115; do. '65, 117½@117⅝; new do., 113⅛@113½; do. '67, 113⅛@113¼; do. '68, 113⅜@113½; 10-40s, 105½@105¾; Pacific Railroad 6s, 102⅜@102½.

State bonds are dull and heavy. Missouris, 88@88¼; new Tennessees, 65¼@65¾; North Carolinas, 57½@57¾.

Railways opened heavy but with more disposition to buy; market soon strengthened with New York Central, Michigan Southern and Rock Island, and Northwestern; the first named rose from 158½ to 160⅝. Pacific Mail fell to 93¼. Later the whole market became weak and declined ¼@2 per cent, New York Central falling to 158¼; still later there was a reaction of ¼@¾ per cent. and the market closed steady and generally up from the lower point. Pacific Mail fell to 92 under great pressure of sales, but reacted to 93. Quicksilver and Mariposa were in lively request and higher.

Express shares were without special interest, though later in the day it became known that Judge Cardoza had granted an injunction to restrain the prosecution of all pending suits, and the bringing up of any more against the American and Merchants Union Companies, with an order to show cause why the injunction should not be made perpetual.

Five-thirty Prices:—Cumberland, 36@37; Wells Express, 31¾@32; American, 42¼; Adams, 60½@61; Merchants, 16½@16¾; United States, 56¾@57; Quicksilver, 21¼@21½; Canton, 59@60¾; Pacific Mail, 92⅞@93; Western Union Telegraph, 38¼@38¾; Hartford and Erie, 25⅜; Mariposa, 17⅞@18; do. preferred, 34¼@34¼; New York Central, 159@159⅛; Erie, 35⅜@35⅝; Hudson, 140@140½; Harlem, 135; Reading, 71¼; Terre Haute, 36@37; do. prf'd, 65½@66½; Wabash, 65½@66½; do. pref'd, 77½@78¾; Fort Wayne, 120⅛@120½; Ohio and Mississippi, 32⅝@32¾; Michigan Central, 118½; Michigan Southern, 97¼@97½; Pittsburgh, 89@89¼; Illinois Central, 138@140; Toledo, 106¾; Rock Island, 128¾@129; Northwestern, 83⅝@@83¾; do. preferred, 91⅝@91¾; Lake Shore, 107; Chicago and Alton, 152¼; Cleveland, Columbus and Indiana Central, 43.

Mining shares dull.

LIVE STOCK MARKETS

PENN'A CENTRAL STOCK YARDS,
WEDNESDAY, March 17, 1869.

CATTLE—The market thus far this week has been a little more active, the sales being larger in the aggregate than usual, though compared with last week, prices are a shade lower. The demand seems to be mainly for New York, the number taken for Philadelphia being comparatively insignificant, and it would appear that the latter market is now being supplied from Baltimore and Lancaster, Chester and other counties in the eastern part of the State. It is thought that from this time forward there will be more buyers than formerly from New York, and if this should prove correct, we expect to see the Cattle trade largely increased at these yards. As will be seen by reference to report of sales, good shipping steers sold at 7½@7¾, and extra do may be quoted at 8@8½. Stock Cattle, 5@6.

WEDNESDAY, March 10.—Greenwald & Kahn to Gillett & Co. 14, weighing 19,225, 7,50; Heskett & Lackey to Beach & Bray 35, weighing 43,800, at 7¼; Brant to Young 16, weighing 17,300, at 7.

THURSDAY, March 11.—Orr & Williams for Potter to Kelly 20, weighing 20,475, at 6½; Shamberg to Gillett & Co. 13, weighing 16,200, at 7¼; Holmes, Lafferty & Co. for Musser to Beach & Bray 13, weighing 14,750, at 6¼; McBeth to same 18, weighing 20,775, at 7¼; Farnum to Barnes 20, weighing 20,550, at 6.

FRIDAY, March 12.—Hedges & Taylor for Nixon to Kelly 21, weighing 29,700, at 5,80; Holmes, Lafferty & Co. for Bush to Gillett & Co. 16, weighing 21,200, at 7,50; same for Martin to Kelly 19, weighing 17,675, at 5⅝; same for McClain & Erwin to Hines 18, at 5¾; same for Musser to Kelly 4, at 5; Hedges and Taylor for Barklow to Beach & Bray 18, on private terms; Orr & Williams for Carpenter to Beach & Bray 12, at 7,28; and 2 at 6; Briggs to Kelly 20, weighing 19,875; Holmes, Lafferty & Co; for McKee to same 20, weighing 20,300, at 6; Sprinker to same 20, weighing 21,325, at 6.

SATURDAY, March 13.—Holmes, Lafferty & Co. for Ward to Beach & Bray 17, weighing 22,000, ot 7⅝; same for Crisp to Pidcock 17, weighing 14,950, at 4½.

TUESDAY, March 16.—Holmes, Lafferty & Co, for Holmes & Pfieffer to Gillett & Co. 17, weighing 20,150, at 7¾; James Dolan to same 31, weighing 38,825, at 7,87: Martin & Frazier to same 51, weighing 59,475, at 7¾; Holmes, Lafferty & Co. for Holmes & Pfieffer to Donnell 16, weighing 19,025, at 7⅝; same for same to Gillett & Co. 16, weighing 18,250, at 7,45; same for Ewing & Crisp to Hadden 48, weighing 59,778.

WEDNESDAY, March 17. — Holmes, Lafferty & Co. for Brown to Beach & Bray 15, weighing 22,475, at 7½.

SHEEP—The Sheep market, under the influence of increased arrivals, was a little dullish to-day and prices were reported off from a quarter to half a cent per pound. Prime to extra still command a good price, 7 to 8 cents, and we are cognizant of one drove of fancy having been fold at 8¼. For common to prime shipping Sheep quotations may be fairly given at 5 to 7 cents, and it takes something very fine to bring the outside figures above quoted.

HOGS—The Hog market is firmer and prices have advanced fully half a cent within the past week. We now quote good to prime Philadelphia hogs at 11¾@12 and Yorkers at 10¼@10¾. There was a sale made to-day at 12,35, but this is above the market-

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
WEDNESDAY, March 17, 1869.

The market was decidedly panicky to-day, and while there was but little done the feeling was very "bearish," and, compared with yesterday, prices have still further declined. For March delivery, last half, there was a decline in Refined of a full cent during the day, and the later months are also off but not so badly, and those who sold "short" are now covering and that, too, at a very handsome profit. Notwithstanding the decline to-day, the question still comes up, is it likely to go lower? and this is the most important point connected with the business at the present time. There are many, including shorts and speculators, who are desirous of buying, but who do not desire to pitch in while there is a prospect of a still further decline, and hence, while the market remains in its present condition, weak and drooping, we do not expect to see much business

REFINED—The market, as already intimated, was weak and panicky today, and compared with yesterday prices have still further declined. We can report 1000 bbls—eorly in the day—for the last half of March at 32; 1000 for the last half of April at 33; 1000 same delivery at 32½; and 1000 for May at 33.

CRUDE—Also is very dull and lower; sales of 2000 bbls seller for next six months at 15¼; 2000 to June 20th at 15; and 1000 first water, 40 to 45, at 15½. As in the case of Refined, there are a good many buyers, but they are holding back in anticipation of a still further decline.

WASHINGTON TOPICS AND GOSSIP.

It is now certain that J. Lothrop Motley will go as Minister to England, and General D. E. Sickles as Minister to Mexico.

Mr. Washburne has suggested, and it is understood the President will appoint, as successor to General Jeffries, Register of the Treasury, Mr. Allison, of Beaver county, Pennsylvania.

General Longstreet accepts the offer of Surveyor of New Orleans, and will be confirmed.

General J. A. Campbell, of Columbiana county, Ohio, will be appointed Governor of Wyoming Territory. As it is probable but one Territorial Governor will be taken from Ohio, this appointment beats Ashley, who wanted to be Governor of Montana and had the endorsement of every Republican member of the House of Representatives. Mr. Campbell's appointment was made at the special request of General Schofield. He is an old printer, and formerly night editor of the Cleveland Leader. During the war he was General Schofield's Adjutant General, and left the army a Brigadier General.

It is said that as soon as it is confirmed that the Cuban insurgents have established a Provisional Government, President Grant will recommend to Congsess an immediate recognition of their independence. This will be the first step toward the annexation of Cuba to this country.

It is stated to-night, on apparently reliable authority, that but few nominations will be sent in until the proposition for the repeal or modification of the tenure-of-office act is disposed of. The recommendation for that repeal will pass the Senate without doubt, and will probably have little or no opposition in the House. It is also understood that this is satisfactory to the President, and will enable him to make appointments during the recess of Congress, thus giving him more time to decide upon the merit of the applicants, and leave him more time than he would otherwise have if compelled to make all the changes now necessary to be made during the present short session.

The crowds which infest the White House all day long are simply frightful, and the President says he has no hope of an abatement until the offices are filled. But the demand for office is not so great as usual at the opening of a new Administration. This fact is due in part to President Grant's straightforward manner of disposing of applicants. When he is waited upon by a delegation he generally informs them that his mind is already determined, and concludes either by assuring them that the nominee will be entirely acceptable to the Republicans at large, or giving them the name of the person he has selected. As a natural consequence of all this, hundreds of office seekers have abandoned their attempts and returned to their homes. Ordinarily, they would have been deluded by evasive replies, and would have remained here weeks and months in the vain hope that they would finally succeed, but they are saved the expense of waiting by General Grant's honest dealing. It is now generally conceded that General Grant must have occupied his time, for the past three months, in selecting proper persons on whom to bestow the patronage of his position.

The current business of the Internal Revenue Department is at present conducted by Deputy Commissioner Harlan, as Commissioner Delano will be engaged for some time to come in selecting men to fill vacancies. The pressure for office continues great, but, as yet, few changes have been made. Commissioner Delano yesterday morning said he would not recommend for removal any loyal Republican who is an honest, capable and diligent officer now on duty. The Democrats and fishy Republicans will be cleared out as rapidly as possible. Delano not only proposes making a clean sweep of Democrats and Conservatives, but every one else whose loyalty to party is suspected will have to walk the plank. This will be applied particularly to Ohio. Delano must be credited with doing the State a service by giving a ticket-of-leave to attaches of the office who have been identified with the ring. All of them will be dismissed.

The name of Colonel Parker, formerly of General Grant's staff, has been frequently mentioned in connection with the office of Commissioner of Indian Affairs. In reply to a western Senator, who was urging Parker's appointment, the President said that there was but one obstacle in the way, and that was that Colonel Parker, being an Indian, was not a citizen of the United States, and on that account he doubted his eligibility for the office. He added that he had got into one scrape about appointing a man who was ineligible to an office (A. T. Stewart,) and he did not propose to repeat the mistake. General Sanborn, a member of the Indian Peace Commission, and a man who has had considerable experience among the Indians, is being pressed for Commissioner of Indian Affairs. He is violently opposed, however, by the Senators from the extreme west, who urge Grant to appoint a man who has had no previous connection with the Indians or the Indian Department. The President has informed these Senators that it is his purpose, as far as he can, to make a thorough reform in the management of Indian affairs. He says that his own experience, as well as the united testimony of Generals Sherman and Sheridan, has convinced him that a radical change ought to be made in the Indian policy of the Government.

There seems to be an opinion prevalent here that the President intends filling all the offices within his gift without consultation with Congressmen as to the necessities of each locality. This is a wrong impression. Yesterday a prominent Pennsylvania Congressman called on the President, and was favored with an interview, during which the Congressman asked Gen. Grant if it were true that he would consult no one on any of the appointments. The President seemed happy to have the opportunity to state that the stories to that effect were untrue. He said that he had so far made but very few appointments, and because most of them were men of his own personal choice, the story alluded to had arisen. He had established a system governing appointments, to which he intends strictly to adhere. All applications for office must come to him through his Secretaries, their indorsement will receive first attention. He prefers that they select their own men. He will hold them responsible, and consequently he wishes them to have every advantage in the selection of their subordinates. He thinks that the Congressmen should be consulted, as they are the proper persons to judge of the wants of their respective localities, but by consultation he does not mean that Congressmen shall dictate to, and command him.

Many of the Senators will insist that the Alabama treaty now before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee be reported by the Committee with its recommendations at as early a day during the present session as possible, in order that it may be rejected, (as it surely will be,) thus leaving the subject of the Alabama claims wholly open for Reverdy Johnson's successor, and not in any way subject to previous negotiations.

Private letters from Washington say Grant recently informed a well known Republican that he would appoint C. A. Dana to the Naval Office here, but that appointments for New York positions would not be made public for some weeks yet.

NEW YORK CITY.

Erie Railroad Legislation—The Proposed Change in the Grain Business—Received Appointments—Express Company Suits—Man Found Murdered.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, March 16, 1869.

A bill is before the Senate Railroad Committee at Albany to enlarge the powers of the Erie Railroad Company, by authorizing new articles of association, under which they can operate all their leased roads in the West.

Sitwell Harris, the manager of the Great Western Advertising Company of St. Louis, appeared to-day before Judge Dowling, in the Tombs, and procured a warrant for the arrest of J. H. Winslow & Co., who carry on a bogus jewelry establishment at 208 Broadway, for defrauding them The Company have advertised Winslow & Co. in one hundred and eight papers without receiving any pay.

At a meeting held at the Produce Exchange to-day, Archibald Baxter in the chair, and S. K. Lane Secretary, the reports in the newspapers of Monday morning relative to the proposed revolution in the mode of conducting the grain business, said to have been urged on the Western Boards of Trade by some gentlemen representing the warehouse interests, claiming the support of nearly all the prominent merchants of the Produce Exchange, was presented for consideration. Mr. Baxter explained the movement was unexpected, not authorized by the Produce Exchange, not really understood by the members, not favored by the shippers of grain, did not originate with the grain merchants, and further added that there were no such evils to remedy and no such difficulties to remove as were mentioned as calling for the proposed reform, He did not want to censure or commend the movement. He wished simply to avoid hasty action, to await the receipt of full information on the subject, and then to calmly and fairly consider the whole matter and act on an intelligent view of the entire subject. Resolutions to this effect were offered and adopted almost unanimously, and the President of the Produce Exchange requested to forward copies of the resolutions to the several Western Boards of Trade. The meeting then adjourned.

The resolutions adopted are as follows:

Resolved, That while the members of the New York Produce Exchange Association are most willing to adopt any system proposed for the handling and care of produce sent to the city that is practicable, and will lead to a saving in the expense upon it or tend to attract from and facilitate business from the Great West, still they must be satisfied, before adopting any such system, that the merits claimed for it are undoubted and lead to the desired result, and they do object to being represented by private parties as being by a large majority in favor of a plan which has as yet not been formally known to them, and has not been shown to have all the essential requisites, and, further, to which plan grave objections are made by a large portion of our members.

Resolved, That the above resolution be sent to the different Boards of Trade at the West, to correct and prevent misapprehensions of our views, and to guard against the hasty acceptance of the plan proposed by the New York Warehouse Association, until it shall have been carefully considered, and the arguments for and against it shall have been fully presented.

Rumor says Ex-Congressman Halsey, of New Jersey, is to be Register of the Treasury, Charles F. Estee, of this city, Deputy Commissioner of Internal Revenue and Augustus L. Ford, of New York city, District Attorney of the Southern District of New York. The latter is represented to be an old acquaintance of the President.

Asa F. Cochrane has recovered damages to the amount of $7,000 from the Adams Express Company for the loss of a package containing $500 by the burning of the steamer Bio Bio at New Orleans in 1863.

An affidavit of William B. Dinsmore, President of the Adams Express Company, was read in the case of Harris vs. the Merchants Union Express Company yesterday, to the effect that it was untrue that the Adams Express Company instigated the action or had any connection with it. The case is before Judge Cardoza, on an application by W. C. Williams to take the place of Harris as plaintiff. Arguments were made thereon but no decision reached.

The body of an unknown man, supposed to be a Jew, was found yesterday at Spring Valley, N. Y., terribly mutilated. He was clothed in a woman's chemise and gaiters and a hat that did not fit. The garments were undoubtedly put on him for disguise.

The Nickel Coinage.

The bill before the House of Representatives, in reference to a new nickel coinage, provides that on or before June 1, 1869, there shall be issued from the United States Mint the following pieces. to be composed of copper and nickel, in the proportion of not less than 25 per cent. nor more than 33 per cent. of nickel; a piece of one cent, to weigh one and one-half grammes (23 grains); a piece of three cents, to weigh three grammes (46 grains); and a piece of five cents, to weigh five grammes (77 grains), with such device as may be fixed by the Director of the Mint, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury. Such devices, when adopted, shall not thereafter be changed by said officers; and the present coinage of one, three and five cent pieces, whether of bronze, nickle, copper or silver, and the issue of Treasury notes of ten cents, shall thereafter cease. Any of the new coins are to be a legal tender in sums of one dollar in any one payment. The new coins are to be distributed in like manner as provided for the present coinage, which is to be called in under such regulations as may be made by the Secretary of the Treasury. The bill also provides for the redemption in national currency, in sums not less than fifty dollars, of the one, two, three and five cent coins now in circulation.

THE ECONOMY BUTTER CO.

ask the attention of all interested in the reduction of the extravagant cost of Butter, to their practical and economical system of making pure prime Butter by the aid of the

EXTRACT OF BUTTER PLANT.

A brief allusion to the origin of this important discovery may not prove uninteresting. Among the authenticated records of the renowned Captain Cook's voyage around the world, is found the statement, that while sojourning for a short time on the Brazilian Coast of South America, he observed the natives using, in the preparation of their food, a peculiar oil, which, upon examination, he found to possess the appearance, taste and flavor of Butter; upon further inquiry, however, he ascertained that it was simply a substance that the natives distilled in a crude and imperfect manner, from a rich and luxuriant plant that grew spontaneously and abundantly in that warm tropical country. A few years an eminent French chemist, while on a professional visit to the tropics, made numerous experiments with this remarkable production of nature, and succeeded in extracting a concentrated essence of the plant. The formula for its preparation, and the Sole Right for its sale in this country are the exclusive property of this Company, by whom it was purchased from the original discoverer. We claim for this remarkable, yet simple and perfectly harmless preparation—

1ts.—That by its use a net gain of from 50 to 200 per cent. is made in the manufacture of Butter.
2d.—That Butter, which from age or whatever cause, may be strong, rancid, streaked or coarse-grained, and comparatively useless for general use, by the aid of this Extract, is restored to its original freshness and sweetness, fine-grain, and even color.
3d.—By the use of this Extract, one pound of delicious, fresh Butter is actually made from one pint of milk.
4th.—That a pure and excellent table Butter can be made, at a cost of from 15 to 20 cents per pound. The chief expense wherein being Butter, which is the essential base.
5th.—That Butter manufactured by the aid of this Extract is equal in every respect to the best Butter made by the ordinary method.
6th.—The Extract after thorough analysis, by able chemists, is pronounced perfectly free from any deleterious substance, the ingredients being purely of a vegetable nature.
8th.—In proof of the foregoing assertions, the factory of this company is making one ton of Butter per day, which meets with ready sale in the New York Mrrket, and is consumed from the tables of the first Hotels, Restaurants and Private families in this city and elsewhere.

A sample package of the Extract (sufficient to make 50 lbs. of Butter) with full directions for use, will be sent to any address on receipt of $1.

CAUTION.—As articles of real merit are subject to spurious imitations, we would specially caution the public against counterfeits and worthless imitations, advertised as powders, compounds, &c., as the Extract of the Butter Plant is prepared and sold only by did fail. That I say, in the face of the country. Gentlemen are exceedingly sensitive. Even my usually cold and amiable friend from Indiana, (Mr. Holman), gets a little sensitive about it. I don't see any occasion to be sensitive. "Let the galled jade wince, my withers are unwrung." I stated the simple, plain facts, and I have not a word to retract, nor a word to add to them. Referring to Mr. Schenck's statement, as to increase of revenue from whisky, Mr. Butler said that whisky had to be withdrawn from bonded warehouses before the 20th of April, and hence the apparent increase; but it was only killing the goose that laid the golden egg, and he would meet the gentleman next December and ask him how much tax has been collected between the 20th of April and 20th of December next. Time would show whether he was right or the Chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means was right, and time at last makes all things even, even bad tempers. [Laughter.] The House should correct this mistake of the Clerk, and then let the Committee of Ways and Means bring in a bill to repeal it, if they dare. [Laughter.]

Mr. SCHENCK, at a further stage of the discussion, showed that the revenue receipts from whisky in July, August and September, last year, were $8,465,000, of which only $1,971,898 came from whisky taken out of bonded warehouses.

The discussion was continued by Messrs. Blair, Farnsworth, Winans and Dawes. Finally the discussion closed.

Mr. HOLMAN moved to strike out the paragraph about bonded warehouses. Rejected—49 to 107. The question was then taken on Mr. Lynch's amendment and it was rejected.

The joint resolution was then passed—yeas 100, nays 43.

Mr. ROOTS introduced a bill to provide levees and secure the low lands of Arkansas and Missouri from inundation and secure the settlement and cultivation thereof. Referred to Committee on Roads and Canals.

On motion of Mr. PAYNE, the joint resolution respecting Provisional Governments in Virginia and Texas was taken from the Speaker's table and referred to Committee on Reconstruction.

On motion of Mr. SERGEANT, the Secretary of the Interior was directed to furnish information as to what steps had been taken to separate the mineral lands from lands granted to corporations for railroad and other purposes.

Mr. BINGHAM, from the Judiciary Committee, reported a joint resolution to restore to Blanton Duncan, of Kentucky, the real estate taken from him by the Government.

After some discussion Mr. KELSEY, of New York, moved to lay the joint resolution on the table. Negatived—yeas 61, nays 81.

Mr. SCOFIELD moved an amendment providing that Mr. Duncan shall release all claims for rent or use of property.

Without disposing of the bill the House Adjourned.

Northwest Woolen Manufacturers' Association.

CHICAGO, March 17.—The second annual meeting of the Woolen Manufacturer's Association of the Northwest was held at the Tremont House to-day. Geo. S. Bowen, the President, was in the chair; Jesse A. McAllister Secretary. The proceedings were brief. The Association voted to co-operate as a body, and as individuals with the national exposition of wool and woolen goods, to be held in New York during the coming summer, and also to hold the next exposition of the Association in Cincinnati in August next. A delegation of gentlemen were present from Cincinnati, who offered the use of appropriate buildings for the exposition and other like facilities free of charge. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Geo. S. Bowen; Vice Presidents, F. K. Nichols, of Illinois, J. G. Gross, of Ohio, J. E. Walters, of Wisconsin, H. R. Gardner, of Michigan, James Shields, of Iowa, F. B. Horton, of Indiana, Wm. Gibson, of Minnesota, Geo. A. Crawford, of Kansas, and Wm. Ross, of Missouri; Secretary and Treasurer, Jesse A. McAllister; Assistant Secretary, Wm. Hawley. The affairs of the Association are in a flourishing condition. Much interest is manifested in the exposition, which will take place in Cincinnati in August next.

St. Patrick's Day in Chicago.

CHICAGO, March 17.—Our Irish citizens very generally took part in commemorating St. Patrick's Day. At ten o'clock a procession formed which extended nearly a mile in length, embracing the Fenian Brotherhood, Irish Rifles, Hibernian Benevolent Society, Roman Catholic Total Abstinence and Benevolent Society, United Sons of Erin Benevolent Society, Horse Shoers Benevolent and Protective Society, Father Matthew Total Abstinence and Benevolent Society, St. Bridgets Benevolent and Temperance Society, National Catholic Temperance and Benevolent Society, and St. Paul Temperance and Benevolent Society.

After marching through a number of streets the procession was dismissed. The procession was a very orderly and imposing one, and was witnessed from the sidewalks and balconies by a large number of people. This evening the St. Patricks Society have a dinner at the Briggs House.

The Assassination of Gen. Hindman.

MEMPHIS, March 17, 1869.—A prisoner in the Halena (Arkansas,) jail yesterday, overheard two negro prisoners discussing the assassination of General Hindman, and informed the jailor, who, together with the Marshal, took one of them out, and after charging him with the crime, he confessed being one of nine negroes who had formed a conspiracy to burn the town of Helena and avenge the hanging of a negro last September for rape; that three of the party had gone to Hindman's house for the purpose of burning it, he having prosecuted the negro who was hung, and one of the number seeing Hindman sitting by the window had levelled his musket and fired, killing him; the others becoming frightened, had fled and abandoned the plan to burn the town. Five of the nine have been arrested and are now in jail. The officers are now searching for others.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

Police matters were remarkably quiet yesterday in Allegheny. A visit to every police office failed to secure a single case.

Mayor Drum was out of town yesterday. There was no business worthy of note transacted at the office during the day.

Divorce.—At a late term of court, a decree of divorce of the matrimonial bonds between Wm. H. Shannon and Fanny Shannon, his wife, was granted.

The Rink.—The opening of the Keystone Rink has been postponed until Friday evening, in consequence of the non-arrival of the young ladies from the East.

The Construction of Sewers in Allegheny continues whenever the weather permits. Notwithstanding the agitation on the question of how they are to be paid for, the parties having the contracts at present seem perfectly satisfied.

Runaway.—A pair of horses attached to a milk wagon, owned by Henry Williams & Co., dairymen, ran away yesterday on Butler street, Fifteenth ward, and collided with the lamp post at the corner of Butler and Fortieth street, demolishing the post.

Larceny of Spectacles.—Tuesday afternoon several youths entered an optician's store on St. Clair street, and, after examining a number of spy glasses, left the establishment without purchasing. A short time after their disappearance the optician discovered that several pairs of gold mounted spectacles had also disappeared. He would like to have them call again, or send some information of where he might call on them.

District Court—Business for the Week.—For the benefit of counsel and clients, we are requested to state Trial list number two will be taken up next week—Judge Kirkpatrick on the Bench.

The cases will be taken up in their order as they are at present open and undisposed of, unless where a time has been specially fixed for the trial of any case. As this is the last call of this kind, parties interested should prepare accordingly.

Shop Lifting.—Harry Warden, alias J. S. Jones, was arrested yesterday in Pittock's book store on a charge of larceny. He was examining a lot of albums, and was noticed, by the young man waiting on him, attempting to secrete one under his coat, which he let drop on the floor. He made a second attempt and was more successful. An officer was called and Harry was taken in custody and conducted to the lock-up, where he was provided with quarters until this morning, when he will have a hearing.

Correction.—We mentioned yesterday that James O'Donnell had made information before Alderman McMasters against James Pancoast for adultery. Subsequently O'Donnell appeared before the Alderman and wished to withdraw the information, stating that he was intoxicated at the time of making it, and had been persuaded to act as he did by several parties who wished to gratify a secret hate of Pancoast in this manner. The matter was finally settled by consent of Mr. Pancoast, O'Donnell paying the costs.

Shoulder Dislocated. Yesterday morning, about eleven o'clock, Mr. John West, proprietor of a feed store in Brownstown, had his right shoulder dislocated by falling from the top of a load of hay on the Monongahela wharf. He was removed to the residence of his brother-in-law, on Western avenue, near Union Skating Park, Allegheny, where his injuries were attended by Dr. John Hamilton. The injury, though painful, is not dangerous, and the victim, with care, will be enabled to be about again in a short time.

A New Charge.—Some time ago we published the particulars of a prosecution for false pretense before Alderman Nicholson, in which Mrs. H. L. C. Kerr, appeared as prosecutrix and Christopher R. Davidson defendant. The case was held over for trial; but, subsequently, the same prosecutrix lodged an information against the same defendant for larceny, the offense in both cases being the same. The amount in dispute was two thousand dollars. Davidson was arrested yesterday by Alderman Nicholson, and in default of bail, committed for trial.

Taken Care of.—About two weeks ago, Andrew Kuhn, an insane man, was committed to jail on an order from Court. The man had been found wandering through East Liberty, and fears were entertained that he would do some damage either to persons or property; hence his committal. Yesterday his friends appeared and took charge of him, release having been granted by the Court. He is about fifty years of age. About seven years since, it is said, he became insane, when he was taken to Dixmont. Recovering, he was subsequently released, and was perfectly sane until a few months past, when he was again attacked. His friends say he is subject to these attacks, and will recover.

Slight Accident.

Yesterday afternoon Mary Lalley, a little girl who had come out to see the Irish parade, while standing at the corner of Grant street and Webster avenue, was slightly injured by being knocked down and run over by a horse which Martin Feely, one of the Marshals, was riding. The horse stepped on her leg, inflicting a flesh wound. Feely was arrested and taken to the lock-up, where he was detained until the officer who made the arrest returned and ascertained that the girl was not seriously injured, when he was allowed to depart and join in the parade.

Hearing Postponed.

David Jones was to have had a hearing yesterday afternoon, before Alderman McMasters, in several cases, the particulars of which our readers are already familiar with. Strange to say, however, although the parties prosecuting in each case were in the Alderman's office before the time appointed for the hearing, when the proper hour arrived none of them could be found. The Alderman accordingly postponed the hearing until Saturday afternoon. He will in the meantime issue attachments to compel the attendance of the prosecuting parties at that time. David was remanded to jail.

Severely Injured.

Captain John Rogers, of the steamboat "Greenbacks," was severely injured at the shop of Patterson & Bishop, Water street, Monday afternoon. He was stooping down looking at an iron band which had been placed around a "walking beam" red hot, and was settling in its place by cooling, when the band suddenly snapped asunder. One of the flying pieces struck him on the forehead and knocked him senseless. He lay in convulsions for some time, but medical attention was procured and, after being somewhat recovered, he was taken to his home, 336 Rebecca street, First ward, Allegheny. We are pleased to learn that he is now so far recovered as to be considered out of danger.

St. Patrick's Day.

The celebration yesterday in commemoration of the natal day of the Patron Saint of the Emerald Isle was participated in by some eight hundred or one thousand persons, and the parade was quite an imposing one. At twelve o'clock the procession formed on Grant street, with the right resting on Second avenue, and headed by the Great Western Band, proceeded under the direction of Dr. E. Donnelly and his numerous aids, all of whom were mounted on gayly caparisoned steeds and decked in green sashes and ribbons, emblematical of the shamrock, to march through the principal streets of the city and Allegheny.

All along the route of procession the sidewalks were crowded with spectators, a large proportion of whom were the wives, sisters and mothers of the patriots in the ranks.

About four o'clock, the procession having returned from Allegheny and made the tour of the upper portion of this city, proceeded to Head Quarters, Lafayette Hall, where an oration suitable to the occasion was delivered by William D. Moore, Esq. The spacious hall was filled with the patriotic Irish men and women, who listened attentively and applauded vigorously the eloquent and patriotic address of Mr. Moore.

The day passed off pleasantly not even a fight occurring to mar the pleasures and enjoyment; and had it not been for a comparatively small number of over patriotic individuals, who could not withstand the temptation to indulge in numerous potations of bad whiskey, and in consequence thereof, were provided with quarters in the lock-up, the affair would have been unexceptionable.

In the evening a grand ball was given at Lafayette Hall, which was participated in by a large number of persons, of both sexes, and which passed off without a single occurrence to mar the enjoyment of the occasion.

AT ST. PAULS CATHEDRAL.

Grand High Mass was celebrated in St. Pauls Cathedral in the morning, and in the evening a large audience assembled in the lecture room of the church to hear a brilliant, pleasing and beautiful lecture by Rt. Rev. M. Domenic on "St Patrick, Ireland and the Irish." He was followed by Rev. Father Coffey in a discourse in Irish, which we thought sounded pretty good, but was quite difficult to comprehend. It greatly delighted a fair portion of the audience conversant with the language. Rev. Father Hickey, a pulpit orator of no ordinary finish and ability, followed, delivering a brief, spirited and enthusiastic address very appropriate to the occasion. The exercises were enlivened by vocal and instrumental music, the Cathedral brass band being in attendance, and several amateur vocalists contributing their services. The vocalism of Miss Dessie McKenna was really superb, rivaling the best renditions we have ever heard at a home concert. This lady is destined to occupy a high place in the ranks of our singers, as she is the possessor of extraordinary talent and has a voice marvelously pure and well cultivated. Miss McChristal and Mr. Benltz sustained their high reputations, and altogether the impromptu concert was veryy creditable to those participating in it.

Narrow Escape.

George Schubert, a lad employed in the show card manufactory of Mr. G. W. Lyon, No. 7 Fifth avenue, met with a narrow escape from instant death, yesterday morning about eleven o'clock. Schubert and Edward Volkodt, another employe had been examining a small single barreled pistol, which was just being put away, when by some means it was fired off. The ball from the cartridge struck young Schubert just above the left eye and passing diagonally upward, came out at the temple, about an inch and a half from where it entered, Dr. W. M. Kern was immediately summoned and dressed the wound. Had the ball struck an eighth of an inch lower it would have produced instant death, but as it is no serious consequences are apprehended. The accident seems to have been unavoidable, and is another warning against the foolish, not to say criminal, practice of carelessly handling loaded fire arms.

Lost His Wagon.

John Payton, residing at Woods' Run, came to the city, yesterday morning, and from his condition in the afternoon had evidently been honoring the natal day of the Parton Saint of the Emerald Isle by frequent and oft repeated potations of "poteen." When he left home he had a horse and wagon, but before noon he had traded his horse for a mule, and it appears he left the mule and wagon standing on Smithfield street, near Fifth avenue, while he went into a saloon to "take another drink." How long he remained there he was unable to say, but the next thing he remembered was that he had lost his mule and wagon. He managed to find the Mayor's office through the assistance of a friend, and made inquiry about the missing property, but it had not arrived there.

Distressing Affair—Child Burned to Death.

Tuesday morning about nine o'clock, a little son of Mr. Thomas Hanna, of Falston, Beaver county, Pa., met with death under the following circumstances. The child, which was about eighteen months old, was playing in the kitchen, where Mrs. Hanna left it alone a few moments, while she went out to get a bucket of water. During her absence it approached too near the grate, when its clothing ignited, and when she returned it was lying on the floor with its clothing almost entirely burned off, and one side of its body burned very badly. Medical aid was immediately summoned, but notwithstanding every exertion, after lingering in great pain until three o'clock in the afternoon, it expired. The funeral of the little victim took place yesterday afternoon.

Going to Germany.

Yesterday morning a woman called at the Allegheny Mayor's office very much excited and sobbing convulsively. She said her husband, a German physician, residing near the Third Ward School House, had amused himself while waiting for patients by whipping her in a severe and brutal manner. The Mayor, after hearing her story, issued a warrant for the arrest of the accused. When the parties were brought together at the Mayor's office a compromise was effected and a separation decided upon. The husband agreed to furnish her with an outfit and pay her passage back to Germany to her friends. The offer was joyfully accepted, and the pair left the office to carry the agreement into execution. The lady expects to start for "Faderland" before the present week is ended.

MASONIC HALL.—This evening Emerson, Allen & Manning's minstrels, will make their first appearance in this city at Masonic Hall. The troupe comprises twenty of the best artists in the profession, and during their short stay here they will doubtless receive a liberal patronage.

The Allegheny Park.

The first annual report of the Park Commission of Allegheny has been laid upon our table. The document is a conveniently arranged and neatly printed pamphlet of fifty-eight pages, containing all the reports and action of Councils relative to the Park, the act creating a Park Commission and its organization, reports of the City Engineer and Landscape Gardener, together with a detailed statement of the progress and cost of construction thus far, and the contemplated improvements. It was deemed desirable by the Commission that the report should be thus printed separate from the proceedings of Councils, in order that all matters, incidental and direct, pertaining to the Park improvement, might be preserved in a continuous history for present use and future reference.

The Report having heretofore been published in separate parts, we deem it unnecessary to make any extended mention of it again. Among the items of interest, however, we notice that although several efforts had previously been made at various times, it was not until February 14th 1867, that any definite action was taken in the matter, when the Committee on Common Grounds submitted a report to Councils, together with a proposed act which was subsequently passed by the Legislature, providing for the conversion of the Allegheny Common Grounds into a public Park. Under the provisions of this act, the Commissioners duly organized April 19th 1867, and instructed the City Engineer to prepare a map of the Grounds and procure designs from Landscape Gardeners for the proposed improvement. Of the designs thus procured that prepared by Mitchel & Grant, of New York, was adopted. These preliminary arrangements were completed by November 1867, and approved by Councils, when the Commission at once commenced on the work before them, and urged it forward to the present time as vigorously as possible. Thus far the amount expended is $41,807,89.

The Commissioners in closing the report, add a word of congratulation at the change of sentiment among the people in general in reference to the Park improvement, and say, "as the work progresses and the plans of the designers are developed, the opposition and distaste to paying the slight cost assessed is lessened, except in a few cases where the parties are opposed to the payment of any taxes whatever."

The following is the organization of the Commission: James Park, Jr., President; Hon. Simon Drum, Mayor, A. H. English, A. M. Marshall, Joshua C. Patterson, Robert Lea, Alfred Slack; J. R. Oxley, Secretary.

A Good Cup of Coffee is a positive luxury, but it is hard to obtain. The best browned coffees now in the market is the Excelsior brand put up and prepared exclusively by Strickler and Moreledge, Iron City Spice Mills, Fifth avenue, near High street. Nearly all the grocers sell it, and we urgently advise our readers to give it a trial. The same mills are famous for fine mustards and spices, their brand being everywhere regarded as evidence of superiority.

Fanny Janauschek.

The unapproachable German Tragedienne, M'lle Janauschek, proposes to represent at the Academy of Music on next Tuesday and Wednesday, 23d and 24th inst., two of her greatest personations, to-wit: "Elizabeth" and "Catharine 2d." The latter drama was specially written for M'lle Janauschek, and it affords ample scope for her wonderful histrionic talent, and the splendor of her costumes, the latter being, as in the play of Elizabeth, of the most magnificent description, and in all particulars a faithful counterpart of those worn by the illustrious personages represented. The whole strength of the troupe will appear on the stage in the above plays elegantly costumed.

The Continental.

We have repeatedly called the attention of our readers to the Continental Dining Rooms, Fifth avenue, next door to the Postoffice, over which Mr. Holtzheimer presides, and desire to do so again. It is not from any desire, however, to especially benefit Mr. Holtzheimer that we do so, but rather with a view to benefiting the public, in whose welfare we are at all times interested. If there is an institution in this city in which the public are interested, it is our duty to set forth its advantages and the benefits to be derived from it, and it is in this spirit that we refer to the Continental. There are numerous persons in the city, and hundreds of strangers who come in daily, who are interested in the matter of dining saloons, and desire to know where they can get a good "square meal" on short notice. We refer them to the Continental.

Great Auction Sale.

Messrs. Macrum & Carlisle, the wholesale and retail trimming and notion merchants, have removed to their new store, No. 27 Fifth avenue, and have opened up a magnificent new stock of goods. To close out the goods at the old stand, they have arranged for a series of great auction sales, which will commence on Saturday next, at 10 o'clock A. M., 2:30 P. M., and 7 P. M. The sales will be continued on Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays at 2:30 and 7 o'clock P. M., and on Saturdays and Wednesdays at 10 o'clock A. M. and 2½ and 7 o'clock P. M. The counters and shelvings are offered at private sale. See advertisement.

Segars—Where to Get Them.

It is scarcely necessary for us to inform our city readers where to purchase a first-class article of segars and tobacco, as there is not a lover of the weed in the twenty-three wards who does not know that John Megraw, No. 45 Hand street, keeps constantly on hand a superior stock of tobacco and segars, embracing all the choicest brands of the latter and the best of the former from the most reliable manufacturers. But we have a host of country readers whose only means of ascertaining this important fact is perhaps through our columns, and it is for their benefit we make the announcement. Retail dealers will find it to their advantage to give Mr. Megraw a call.

The Procession Impeded.

As the fine procession in honor of St. Patrick's Day moved along Wood street yesterday it was seriously impeded by a number of wagons loading at the great trunk emporium of Joseph Liebler. The annoyance was provoking, but the police knowing that the trade of that house is so large, owing to the fine quality of trunks, valises, hand satchels and carpetbags manufactured and sold, could not interfere. Cheap prices and good goods are bound to tell, and it was no wonder that Liebler's Premium Trunk Factory made such a display of business yesterday.

Miss Judith Russel, of New Bedford, writes: I have been afflicted with severe prostrating cramps in my limbs, cold feet and hands, and a general disordered system. While visiting some friends in New York, who were using PLANTATION BITTERS, they prevailed upon me to try them. I commenced with a small wine-glass full after each meal. Feeling better by degrees, in a few days I was astonished to find the coldness and cramps had entirely left me, and I could sleep the night through, which I had not done for years. I feel like another being. My appetite and strength have also greatly improved by the use of the PLANTATION BITTERS.

He has an immense stock of trimmings and lace goods, hosiery and gloves, of a very superior quality, which fact having come to the knowledge of many ladies, they are rushing there to make their selections.

New Goods in a New House.—Macrum & Carlisle, wholesale and retail trimming and notion merchants, have just taken possession of their new store, No. 27 Fifth avenue, where they have opened a full and magnificent stock of new goods.
